THE STREETS

Committee Held a Meeting Last Evening at the City Hall,

Proposition Considered for Slag-Use of Dnmp Carts Taiked of.

The joint street committee of the general council held a meeting last night hut did nothing definite. One matter discussed was the offer of the iron furusco people to give the city the slag from the furnace for the streets. This may be used as a base, for remaining the throughfares, bet it is not deemed proper to put on the enriace of the streets, as it has no ocmenting qualities and onts every rub ber tire that passes over it. If it is decided that the slag cau be advantageously used as a base, however, the offer will be accepted.

of using only dump carts for hanling the city gravel and the dirt therefrom. Two men are required to load and up icad the wagous now need while it is ciaimed that one msu coaid do the work with a dump cart, but some of the committee are not satisfied that it would be economy as the carts do not holds s much as the wagons.

It seems to be the general opinion were roiled with the sirect roller, It would remain mach more substantial and save the city a great deal. Instead it is damped on the streets and left to acatter and wesh away.

AUSPICIOUS "OCCASION

F 12 0

Loudon, Feb. 25-The dinner given by the American society in honor of Washington's birthday was the occasion for a brilliant assemblage, at which a welcome was given to D. R. Francis, president of the Louisana Parobase Kapositiou.

The Dake of Devoushire and Lord Londonderry, mambers of the cabinet, officially voiced the good will of the British government, while the ford mayors of London and Bristol, the iord provoet of Glasgow/Lord Strathcona and Lord Bothschild and several members of the hoose of commons gave ex pressions to hearty good wisher.

The Dake of Devoushire, in propos Suead, the vaterau maunfacturer, is ing the toast, "The President of the United States," referred to Romevelt as a man who had made his mark as a saccessful civil acrvice reformer, s great administrator, a gallant military ender and an eminent statesman, in whom he saw au intelligent and earnest friend of Eugiand.

"Never in any previous times," said the Dake of Devonshire, "have Anglo-American relations been more cordial Both peoples are in fairly good humor with themselves, and so it is unlikely that they should be in a bad humon with each other.

"I welcome the tendency on the part of the United States to take a larger and keaner interest in affaire uutaide the American continent."

Ambassador Choata, foilowing in the same strain, declared that any kind of war on any kind of sobject betwees Great Britain and America would not only be a great calamity, but an unspeakable crime.

. President Francis described the motive and scope of the St. Louis espositinn; He gave detailed figures, showing the easy with which the mousy was exuthicien perfect and naeful to the Enropean eshibitors and visitors-in short,"a golden milestone in the highway of human progress and coronation of civilination." He referred to the first great international exposition in London, Feb. 25-Tramping hattalions of the nnemployed have taken the place of the movements of the mighty army rn Sonth Africa fighting the battle of the emptre. The common acttled down, after reremonial and pageantry, to a two days' debate of questions of paramennt Importance connected with the poverty and phy sical degeneracy of the swarming masses of darkest London. John Bnrns, Jesse Collengs, Sir John Gorst and Keir Hardie proposed remedies for social leprosy which the pardworking vicars and missionaries of the east end have been struggling to overcome by organized religious and charitable effort. The ministers took an easy-going view of the existing evils and declined to commit themselves to drastic measures for promoting emigration from overcrowded towns to the country, or for providing public work on a large scale or rehousing the

There are half a million unemployed in London in the worst seasons, and another million may be irregularly occupied with wretchedly paid work, and the process of deterioration in working capacity is constantly going on among the lll-housed and halfstarved masses in the imperial capital.

It is a question which appeals to practical workers among the poor in London. The march of ragged battalions through the streets week after week has forced it upon the attention of parliament, where the governmen majority has fallen to 39 and 40 on two amendments to the address.

> Mrs. Sperry, days before she was immersed, begged and beseeched of Rev. Jenes to postpone the service until after her babe was born, hat he was obdinrate and insisted, and the mother-in-law, Mrs. Sperry, Sr., was on the mluister's side, and she literally, with the aid of the so-called minister, dragged the young woman to the river's banks. The girl was compelied before leaving home Sanday afternoon to don a very thin white dress, with low neck (and short sleeves, and given only a flimsy shawl to keep ent the cold blasts of winter.

When the party reached the river Rev. Mr. Jones took about three-quartera of an hour to preach a sermon and say prayers.

The little band was composed of the minister, Mrs. Sperry, Sr., Mrs. Sperry, Jr., and six converts to the Dowie faith, which is within two of the entire number of converts in Hartford.

Mrs. Sperry was immersed and kent in the weter, according to the statement of eye-witnesses, for fully fifteen minutes, and when she was taken ont she was nuconscious. Catteaco, It., 544 Garfield Avenue, October, 9, 1902.

After doctoring for eleven months and taking forty-three bottles of medicine and finding no relief for leucorrhera resulting from irritation of a fallen womb 1 took Wine of Cardui and fourteen bottles cured me. This seems strange but it is the simple truth. Winn of Cardui helped me from the time I began taking It and having heard It praised so highly by friends who had tried It I felt satisfied that it would help me, and It did. It cured me. Took every hit of ache, pain and headache, cramps and drugging down sensations away till I felt young, strong and happy once from the time I believe. I have more faith in it than all other medicines combined.

Who would go on suffering female troubles after reading the earnest statement of this prominent woman? Are you suffering from leucorrhosa? Have you the irritation of a fallen or misplaced atterns? To you have periodical headaches? Do you have aches, pains or cramps in the abdomen? Have you "bearing down pains"? Do you feel as if you were never "young, strong and happy? The blood must be purified and invigorated, and no other remedy does this so well or so promptly as S. S. S. It refreakes and restores to the thin acid blood its nonrishing and health-sustaining properties. And when strong, rich blood is again circulating through the body the acid poisons and irritating matter are washed out of the muscles and joints, and the pains at once cease and joints, and the pains at once cease and foliates. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine and does not derange the stomach like the strong mineral remedies, but builds up the general health, increases the appetite and tones up the digestion.

Gordon went one step further, "Then this warrant will cite Itandali to ap-pear before Judge Chambere. If cases that come under the provisions of the building act of 1807 are appealed from the police court of Judge Chambers, do the poince court of Judge Chambers, do they go to the court of appeals or the court of special pleas?'
The city attorney hediated.
"The court of appeals. There is no choice in the matter."

Gordon was silent. The city attorney eyed him again with interest.

"Are you a lowyer, young man?"

"Do you know Tourny Itandali Inti-mately?"

"No. Do you?"

"But Chambers seems to be unpopular around here," he said to Ford.
"That's hopeful for ns, isn't it?"
"How unpopular?"

"l'idn't you notice the city attorney's hesitation when t'hambers' nams was mentioned? And while you were talking I overheard a little talk between two men at the other end of the office. Chambers' name occurred several times, and it was never spoken of in any complimentary terms. If he is un-popular with the city administration, isn't that a good sign for us?"

"Yes. It's a glinmer of hope, hu only a gliminer in this swful municipal darkness. We'll follow it, though, and hope for the best." Gordon was not present when the officer served the warrant on Tommy, but he learned afterward that the two regarded the matter as a good joke and regarded this matter as good joke and adjourned to the nearest saloon to have a drink over it together. When next thorning Gordon appeared with Ford in Chismisers' court in response to the warrant, which set 0 o'clock as the time, Tommy was there in good spirits and nedded familiarly to Gordon as he caule ln.

When the case was enlied, the three went forward and Gordon noted with deep interest the man who presided and of whom Mrs. Penrose had said, 'He does not fear man or devil.'

He was almost youthful in appearance. His smooth face and a delicate, scholarly look that a pair of gold howed spectacles emphasized. He seemed strangely out of place in that police conrt. When he spoke, it was in a voice so soft and refined that Gordon was disappointed. His heart sank and at the glimmer of hope he had nilowed his heart to entermin filekered and went out.

"Who are the prosecuting witnesses in this case?" Chambers said, and Gordon and Ford stepped up. Gordon unde his statement, and the judge eyed blin through his spectacles. Then he

"What have you to say, Mr. Gordon?" The judge turned his speciacled eyes toward him. 'I say ha lies," replied Gordon promptly.

"Have you any proofs?" The volce seemed sharper, and the figure straightened up parceptibly.
Gordon hesitated. Ha began to so through Tommy Itsndall's scheme, it was not like Tommy Randall to run such a risk, but his whole political life had been such a much of lies and delib nad been such a mean of less and delin-erate dishonesty that it was not be-yond the region of probability for him to resort to a very dangerous and des-perate trick to clear himself. Gordon had carefully measured the foundation walla of the double docker and knew that by his measurement they covered the entire lot, yet he had nothing to prove that fact except his own state-

All the way to Hope House Gordon and Ford felt like executing a dance of soms kind in the car. Once in the familiar library, they related the whole nffair to Miss Andrews and the delighted settlement workers.

"This means the beginning of the end for Tommy Randsil," said Ford.

Miss Andrews shook her head. "Tommy appealed the ense. Itn will get out there. Itemeniber he has never yet been convicted. Today's experience was only a scratch to him. He has not yet been seriously hurt. You do not know him as I do." "But Chambers does not intend to let the other matter rest. It was a plain case of conspiracy and deliberate effort to deceive the court."

Miss Andrews shook her head again.
'Tommy is an old fox, He made a mistake in not messuring Judge Chambers sright. But now that he knows him he will be cautious. I confess I have very little hope of him nitimath conviction."

"But he will have to change the building, won't he?" one of the young ricinity." "It's my opinion the masons will be at work tomorrow just the same, and no change will be made. do not know Tommy Randall nor ap In the morning Gordon and Miss Audrews went over to the site of the tenement, accompanied by Ford, Miss Hammond and nearly all the workers. The mssons had begun their dny's work. In answer to questious they said they had received no orders to change auything. "It's essy to say, I told you so!" Miss Andrews culmly spoke as the fittle company slowly went back to the house, "Of course, pending the decision of the case in the court of appeals, Tommy will go on with the huilding, because he feels sure the decision there will reverse Chumbers' decision." "Then I don't see as we can do anything," said Gordon dejectedly.

"Yes, yon've done something to get Tommy its adall convicted in any court nt nil.

"But I don't see that the conviction hurts him any. He ought to be in jail. Instead of that, he's going right on with his lawlessness just the same ss if he hadn't been found guilty at nil," sald one of the young women.

Gordon looked at Miss Andrews. She

"I suppose you can time to measme correctly?"

Tommy murmured amething. So did the attorney. It may be remarked in passing that it was not exactly a prayer that either may uttered.

Calling one of the measure to below

The article referred to in the morning Index wss a conspicuous column se-count of the conviction of Tommy Ran-dail in public court on a charge sworn not a word was said by any one on the way back. Gordon was single g in his soul a song of hope. Here was a baniel come to judgment. We ever before in the history of that city da public judge or suy other ever done a thing like this? The spectacled soft voiced young man suddenly loom it in struction contrary to is w of tenements like the one that made possible the re-cent tenement house tragedy. The article concluded with these words:

cent tenement house tragedy. The article concluded with these words:

Will the people endure this sort of thing fluch innger? Tominy Randait is not en abelraction. He is 200 pounds of coercefeels and bad blood, which spits on the liw and says to the people, "You mind your own business." For thirty years Tommy Itsodait has ruied Waiteraide diarlict like a lyrent. It has no office in this service of the people. He works el no trade. He le not elected to any position in the city. Yet he has grown rich from his blackmilt of esloone, gumbling dens, houses of vice and business firms in the diarrict. His trade is in flesh end blood. No slaws driver ever employed more errebutality in riveting on their misonices, and the horror of this whole effeir is incensified by this fact that this creature who is after all this tool of the oschling that the trade of the miscriphic wretches who couries him has sclueily persuaded the miscriphic wretches who couries him that creeded him has sclueily persuaded the miscriphic wretches who couries him that he their best friend. There will be no release from this slavery until the mischine that made Tommy Hendail what he is has been broken to pieces by the people so that it can seither turn out sny more product liks him or keep in power what has aireedy been brought into existence. We sey, Smash the mischine, The people, arm able to do it. Will they do it?

The Review also contained a good secount of Tommy's case in the police court and in addition cited in full the biue print incident and boidly de-nounced the is wyer and the boss for attempt at conspiracy to deceive the court. Three other papers had more or less extended notice of the event, and aif of them were unfavorable to Tommy. This was the more significant as two of the papers and been for the administration.

"There's hope here," Miss Andrewa said that evening as the little settle-ment family was gethered in the fumily library and the accounts in the different papers were being reviewed.
"Maybe this is the first murmuring of the people. God grant"—
The bell rang, and a visitor was announced.

Mr. Julius Chambers came in, and the little company around the table rose to greet him. The slight, pale faced figure with the gold rimmed specta-cies was at that moment the most luteresting personning, next to their own head, in all the city. "I've had in mind to come there for some time," he said to Miss Andrews when they were all seated sgain. "I want to know you and your work at first hand. Unless I am mistaken the storm center of the next campaign will be somewhere in this

"Will you be anywhere near the center of that center?" asked Gordon, leaning over and looking at Chambers intensely,

"By the grace of God, Mr. Gordon, I want to be as near the center of it as I can get, and nothing would please me nore than to have your company."

Gordon tingled all over. He srose and put out his hand. The judge took lt. Neither said a word, but from that minute the two men were knit to each

They sat late that night around the library table, the most enthusiastic, interested and in some ways the most unselfish group of men and women in that city. Gordon and Chambers inid out a plnn of campaign. It included the use of every moral and Christian force In the city. And the message they were to bring to the people was the messag of murdered childhood, the double decker for a background, the political loss n necessary result of politics that lived on its spoils and cared no more for humanity's loss and rule then any nachine cares for the dust that whirl through its mechanism, to be blown out over the world or trod under foot to ilse and be swept agalu into the rush of the wheels that with metallic heartlessness grind on, doing the will of their nunker, but caring for no man's

It seemed to them all during th weeks that followed that the city was awakening to some stern reality of its moral obligations. As the young judge had mild that night when he appeared nt Hope House, "The hour of the peo-ple is at hand." He himself, sometimes alone, oftener with Gordon or Faimouth, night after night addressed great mass meetings held under the di rection of church or temperance or mu vicipal reform bodies. Falmouth and s score of other ministers organized the young people into campaign material The pulpit began to speak out. The papers contained columns of very free ad vertising of Tommy Rundall and his mothods. Chambers' voice spoke through an astonishing number of edi torinis and other satisfies, exposing long alonding cases of awful incompetency and fraud in the city government. The storm of the people's fury rose and grew with every night's gathering, and the storm center was literally the Wa terside district.

There was a time in the fifties and sixties when Shippingport and Portland were ports of considerable importance to steamboats. That was when the hig New Orleans boats could neither come up over the falls nor get through the locks of the old canal. The enlargement of the locks had the effect to break np the steamboat huslness at both places, Portland being the most important of the two. Portland was a husy, hustling, thrivleg place in those days, and the husiness houses on the river front did a hig hasiness. For years it has been a desolate, deserted looking place, and today the river front looks like the ragged edge of nowher, ewhile Shippingport has changed considerably and does not look like it did 40 years ago when Jlm Poretr, the in the place. There is Kathy a good deal about the sole of a womau's shoe-that needs attention. You realize it if you stop to think how much you relieve the discomfort and "hardness" of shoes by making their soles flexible.

So far as I know (and I have taken pains to examine many different makes of shoes) the "Dorothy Dodd" is the one shoe for women that is really constructed with a flexible sole.

You can tell the difference as soon as a few steps have been taken. It means comfort. And a flexible sole, as rule, will out last any rigid sole -don't overlook that!
